TRUSTEES CONSIDER BUSINESS OF TOWN

Members of Board Go On Record in Favor of Limitation of Municipal Extension

READY TO IMPROVE PARKS

Private Wharf Owners Not Permitted to Discourage Transportation By Water Routes.

At the meeting of the town trustees Monday evening the members of the board, with the exception of Trustee Hynding, went on record as favoring supervision by the Supervisors of attempts at annexing territory to municipalities. The question was brought before the meeting by attorney George C. Ross, who presented and asked the adoption of a resolution urging Assemblyman Holmquist to use his endeavors to secure the adoption of bills now pending before the Legislature.

The proposed bill requires that before the question of the annexation of territory by any municipality can be submitted to the voters, a petition for the annexation describing the territory, must be submitted to and approved by the Supervisors. Mr. Ross stated that it was intended to so amend the new law before its passage as to guard against the possibility of adverse action by the Supervisors because of individual prejudice or veniality. This will be accomplished by providing for the right of those agrieved to appeal from the decision of the board to a general vote of the county. Mr. Ross explained the peculiar nature and operation of the present law at some length, showing that while boards of supervisors were given control of the general advisability of the bounds of new incorporations, the jerymandering of subsequent annexations were subject to no other limitation than the whims of ambitious towns.

After an extended discussion, the following resolution was adopted by the Trustees:

"Resolved—By the Board of Trustees of the town of Redwood City, that Hon. H. C. Holmquist, member of the Assembly from San Mateo county, be and he is hereby requested to advocate the adoption of Assembly bills Nos 1011 and 1012 now pending before the Legislature of the State of California in reference to the annexation of territory to municipalities, together with any amendments that may be desirable for the purpose of strengthening said bills which may be introduced."

Trustee Hynding voted against the adoption of the resolution, expressing the opinion that one of the chief designs for urging the passage of the law was to hamper the people of South San Francisco.

George Bettin presented an application for appointment as town poundmaster. No other applications for the position were made and Bettin was given the appointment on recommendation of Trustee Brown.

A commpnication was presented from Walter Knight, who owns 160 feet of property fronting on the County Road. While suggesting no special plan, Mr. Knight urged that the improvement to be made should be of the best and most durable character. No other suggestions were offered in regard to this improvement.

Lottie M. Wilcox, secretary of the park committee of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, presented a communication stating that the committee was now prepared to proceed with the improvement of the park and inviting the cooperation of the board. The public improvements committee was directed to assist in the work.

City treasurer F. K. Towne reported that there was now $21,965.54 in the special water system fund. This sum arrises from the sale of the $20,000 bond issue, with premiums and accrued interest.

Trustee Riee again brought up the matter of the use of streets and other public property fronting on Redwood Creek for wharfage purposes. Attorney Mansfield stated that the ordinance fixing wharfage rates applied only to the dock at the end of the deep-water road. Chairman Merrill suggested that it was a matter of good public policy to encourage as much as possible the shipment of freights by the water route and doubted the wisdom of making charges at this time. While Trustee Rice agreed with this, he urged that those who invested money in the building of wharves should be given protection. As it appeared that the places complained of were being but slightly used at this time, it was decided that there was no necessity for material restrictions. As a solution, it was ordered that in the future no freight should be docked at any public property without a special permit from the Trustees.

The map of the Wallace subdivision as presented at the last meeting was approved.

Street Superintendent Dickey was authorized to expend not to exceed $80 in the purchase of shrubbery for Crescent Park, in the Wellesley Park addition. He was also authorized to lay the necessary pipe for the irrigation.

Some time was spent in further discussion of plans for renaming of streets. No attempts were made at a selection of names, this being left until definite systems are fully determined. Trustee Hynding snggested that this include the designation of all streets running in one general direction as avenues, while those running at opposite directions be termed streets. Where two streets now practically abut eachother, both will be given the same name, so as to form one continuous street. In the section lying north of Broadway to Eighth there will probably be a complete rearrangement of names. The board also favors the plan of discontinuing the use of letters and numerals for designations.

Another meeting will be held Monday evening.

Local Base Ball Team.

This year's home baseball team will be composed of local talent. The grounds will be put in good condition so that the fans will be treated to fast baseball. The first game will be played the first Sunday in April, the grounds permitting. The lineup will be as follows. Oscar Comper and Fred Bars, pitchers; C. Curran, catcher; Al. Becker, 1st base; Sam Allain, 2nd base; Bob Fox, short stop; Joe Botto, 3rd base; Molly Allain, left field; Henry Beeger, center field; H. Rix and Jim Heaney, right field. The team hopes for the support of the people. Will Bars will act as manager.

WOULD BUILD PUBLIC GARBAGE DESTROYER

Incinerator Inventors Ask City To Make Large Nnvestment of Funds.

WANT GIFT OF LAND FROM CITY

Proposition Submitted for Construction of Absolutely Odorless Garbage Destroyer.

Another new proposition was introduced into the garbage question at the meeting of the Town Trustees last Monday evening, with practically the proposal that the town should adopt the incinerator method with an ultimate investment of at least $10,000. Just after the opening of the session, Chas. P. Olaine, a representative of the United States Furnace and Incinerating Co., of San Francisco, addressed the Board, submitting a proposal for the erection of a plant recently devised by this concern. Practically the proposition as submitted is that the town should furnish a suitable tract of land for the erection of the plant at the outset. This it [illegible] must be at least one acre in extent. Upon this the company will construct the incinerator at a cost of $10,000, and will undertake to operate the plant until its practicability has been established when it may be purchased by the municipality at its original cost. Should the town fail to take over the plant within a specified time it will then be sold to private parties, as the manufacturers do not design engaging in the business of running incinerators.

It is claimed by the manufacturers that the incinerator designed by them will emit absolutely no fumes, the heat being sufficiently intense to destroy all gases. It is also claimed that the furnace is capable of destroying every possible class of refuse, including such material as tin cans and scraps of iron.

It is claimed that a plant of the size proposed would have sufficient capacity for the destruction of about 30 tons of refuse daily. It is estimated that the average daily amount of garbage in cities is 3½ pounds per capita. At this estimate, the total garbage of the town at this time is not likely to exceed four tons per day.

At the present time the manufacturers have no incinerators at work, a plant of practically the same design has for some time been in use as a smelter at Mt. Diablo. It is claimed this has been used for the smelting of copper ore, without emitting fumes of any charactor. The refuse is also reduced to a perfect "slag," of a quality which will permit of its use as material in macadamizing streets.

In the demonstration of his plans, Mr. Olaine exhibited complete outlines of the furnaces. While these seemed to be practicable, and to a very large measure met the approval of the Trustees the amount of investment required appeared to be something of a stagerer. While the members of the board were ready to give the matter thorough discussion, there was but little disposition shown to invest city funds in the enterprise—especially as it was evident the money was not available, and by common consent the matter was relegated to the usual grave of future consideration.

Where Was the Deacon?

Deacon Jones, the great man of a little village of Massachusetts, whose outward piety was of the vociferous order, but whose charity toward his fellow men was not as abounding as it might have been, was dangerously ill, and his brother deacons, impressed with the custom of issuing bulletins from the sick rooms of prominent individuals, decided to follow the fashion, with the following results:

"6 P. M. Deacon Jones is in a serious condition."

"7 P. M. Deacon Jones has rallied slightly."

"9 P. M. Deacon Jones has suffered a relapse."

"11 P. M. Deacon Jones has departed for heaven."

Thus the buletins read at midnight; but early in the morning some unregenerate mortal who did not love the Deacon, evidently passed that way, for the light of a new day showed curious townspeople the later report:

"Heaven. 7 A. M. Great consternation here. Deacon Jones has not arrived."—Woman's Home Companion for March.

Carl Fielding a freight conductor met with a terrible accident at San Mateo yesterday afternoon. While switching some cars his foot became caught in a frog and he was held fast until run over by some cars that were backing onto the sidetrack. Fielding had his right leg cut off close to his body. He was hurried to the Red Gross Guild hospital where he died shortly afterward.

E. W. McLellan, the Burlingame contractor has filed a suit in the Superior Court against the East San Mateo Land Company for $10,727.19 which sum is alleged to be due for grading the subdivision owned by the latter at San Mateo.

Time To Wake Up.

Business men and property owners of Redwood City shonld awaken more thoroughly to the possibilities open to them for civic advancement. There exists no valid natural reason why the population of the city should not be very materially increased during the next two years. This would necessarily mean an increase in the volume of business and enhancement of property values of no mean proportions.

All that is necessary to accomplish this desirable sesult is a little energetic and united action. Nature and fortunate location have contributed all that can be desired. Opportunity stands knocking at the door, almost demanding recognition.

We have an ideal location for factories, in fact such as is offered by no other city on the Peninsula. Here can be provided ample facilities for the shipment of freights both by water and rail. In addition to this, there are many considerable tracts of land admirably suited for factory sites and of but comparatively small value for other purposes. These are facts which should be persistently called to the attention of investors seeking lotations for new enterprises.

At the same time, every effort should be made to secure the improvement of the facilities afforded by nature. By the expenditure of a sum of money insignificant in comparison to the public benefit to be derived this city should be given a very considerable stretch of water front on a channel suitable for vessels of reasonably light draught. The National government has been and is still expending large sums of money in the improvement of waterways of less importance than Redwood Creek. There seems no question that a reasonable appropriation can be secured if the matter is properly and persistently called to the attention of our Representative in Congress. Mr. Hayes has promised to do this and it is up to our people to see that he is constantly reminded of this pledge.

A Wise Conclusion.

The decision of the Trustees not to exact tolls for the occasional use as docking places of the ends of streets which abut on Redwood Creek is a wise business policy. The amount that can be derived from this source would be insignificant, while the ultimate injury to business prospects might be material. In the interest of both the present and future, every effort should be made to encourage the use of the natural freight route. Those who have built priyate docks have done so more for the convenience of individual business than for use by the public, and need no protection.

Builders Should Act.

Those who contemplate building should set busy soon as there is likely to be a sharp advance in the price of lumber. In fact the quotations for shingles show an increase already. As a partial offset there has been a reduction in the price of nails, due doubtless to the threatened war in the steel industry which has already unsettled conditions in that trade.

Harold O. Heiner and Miss Ilarene Duncan surprised their many friends by announcing last Saturday that they had been married last September in San Rafael, by Rev Stephens, pastor of the Congregational church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Heiner are well-known here. Mr. Heiner was born and raised in Redwood City and was educated in the local grammar and High schools. After leaving High school he joined the navy and saw considerable of the world. Upon leaving the navy he went into the abstrac business which he learned from the ground up. He is now engaged in that business in this city.

Mrs. Heiner came to Redwood City from Hollister as a young lady and took a course in the High school after which she attended Normal school and has for the past two years been teaching in the West Union school where she endeared herself to all the parents and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Heiner are at present residing with Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Chilcott, as the home they are having built on the County Road is not yet completed.

The Times-Gazette joins their many friends in wishing the young couple a long and happy married life.

The varsity crew men came here on Friday afternoon to practice in the eight-oared-shell. The weather was ideal and not a ripple disturbed the surface of the water. The men were able to spend a very profitable day in the boat and the first real hard work of the season was experienced.

The E. M. McLellan Co. has commenced a suit against the East San Mateo Land Co. to recover the sum of $10,728.19 for work and labor done and materials furnished. The plaintiff also asks for interest and costs of suit.

Martin Z. Oberhaus has brought suit in the Superior Court against C. A. Ball, administrator of the estate of J. D. Lohman, decased, to quiet title to certain lots in the West End Homestead Association.

Judge Buck on Thursday on the recommendation of Doctors Ross and Barret commited George Bryant and his wife Frances Bryant to the Agnews asylum. Both are morphine fiends and have resided at San Mateo for some time.

Two Perfections in One.

(The outcome through evolution is the bud in human thought.)

Evolution that is, no one can deny
In like self, lies its birthright no truth can deny.
For time is a word that simply means change,
That repeats its own truth in Evolution again.
A work toward perfection the likeness within,
The same I am using I repeat it again
But this perfection that perfecteth is always above.
That has puzzled all ages may call it our love.
I agree with this latter but its source let us find,
Its my flame called life's presence, I call it life's name.
Its presence are as we are called the source of our being.
Its that which I think with itself it is using,
With its immage and likeness all nature is choosing.
The same as in us that startles our notion.
From this impulse we build in each day's work we find,
This impulse this outcome a work of the mind,
Like in Him who has spoken of a time yet to be
When the truth shall be known and man shall be free.

A communication was received and read from the Visitacion Valley Improvement Association asking the board to investigate the fencing on the County Road along the bay shore near tunnel No. 4, making it necessary for teams to take another route. It was pointed out that Walbridge street was alm st impassible. The suggestion was made that at least 11 lights be placed on Walbridge street.

The communication was referred to the Supervisor of the first township to report at the next meeting.

A letter was read from Donald McKenzie, Superintendent of the Court House, asking that certain repairs be made on the roof of the building. He said that drain pipes were needed that in case of an overflow the down pipes might be chocked. The matter was referred to the Court House Construction Committee and in the afternoon the committee reported favorably on the suggestion. It will take four pipe at a cost of $5 each. The work was ordered done.

P. Lenehan of Menlo Park sent a communication to the board asking that the sum of $31.85 be deducted from the claim of John O. Headlund and paid to him for boarding said Headlund, who was engaged on the Court House and was found dead near the Lenehan hotel nearly a year ago. The matter was referred to the District Attorney to report at the next meeting.

The petition of Mrs. Amaral for aid was denied. McEvoy, to whom the petition was referred at the last meeting stated that it would be an abuse of charity to give her aid as she was in good health and under 40 years of age.

The petition of Henry D. Teal and others asking for the formation of the San Mateo Homestead Sanitary District was taken up. Mr. Teal was sworn and testified to the genuiness of the signatures to the petition and to the fact that all signers were residents of the proposed district. The chairman made an order establishing the boundary lines and fixing April 10th as the day to hold the election.

The complaint of Miss Grace McLellan against poundmaster William Cassie was discussed. Miss McLellan appeared and related how Cassie had taken up a horse that was tied on the road side at Beresford. He was intoxicated and pulled a pistol. She offered the legal fee of one dollar but he demanded $2.50 which sum she had to pay later at Redwood City. Her sister, Belle McLellan told how Cassie acted in taking the animal, Cassie on his own behalf stated that the horse was tied out on the road side opposite the McLellan property, that when he attempted to take the animal Miss McLellan objected. He did not want to take any chances with such people and used vigorous measures to secure the animal. District Attorney Bullock said the officer had discharged his duty andthat the fee collected was a legal one. Coleman said the poundman had evidently performed his duty and moved that the charge be dismissed and the motion was seconded by Casey and carried, McEvoy voting no.

J. F. Ford, superintendent of the county farm and hospital, sent the following communication:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors—Gentlemen: By reference to a bill on file in my office dated January 9, 1909, it is evident that 12 Institution bedsteads at $8 had been delivered to the farm. Of this number only 10 can be found. There is also missing, according to the cook, from the January invoice of groceries delivered by Levy, Bros. one sack of sugar, valued at $5.80, and one sack of rice valued at $6. It has been reported to me that one washing machine has been taken from the farm. Albert Eikerenkotter is charged with 3415 pounds of hay delivered January 11, 1909. I will be pleased to receive instructions from the board regarding these matters."

J. F. Ford.

The communication was referred to the Courthouse Committee.

Chairman McEvoy, for the Court House Construction Committee to whom was referred the claim of Rainey and Phillips some weeks ago, reported that the charge of $1204 for the extra course of stone was proper and should be allowed. The claim was afterwards passed by the board.

The communication of the O'Brien Construction Company informing the board that the extra course of stone on the Court House done by Rainey and Phillips would require additional brick work was referred to the Court Huose Committee. The cost of the extra brick work will be $630. The Supervisors are in a quandry as to when the extras caused by the course of stone will stop.

McEvoy stated that owing to the interruption in the board by noises by typewriters could be avoided by the the Supervisors holding their sessions in the Court Chambers or the old school building at the further end of the Court House grounds. No action was taken.

A statement signed by the Chairman, District Attorney and Auditor was presented showing the condition of the county treasury to be as follows: Gold on hand, $96; silver, $7.76; warrants, $2539.63; certificates of deposit, $290,971.80.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Many Substantial Structures to Erected in County During the Present Year.

The schools of San Mateo County are now nearly all in session. There were fewer changes in the personalle of the teaching staff at the beginning of this term than at any time during the past two years. Several changes however were made in the following schools: Miss Helen Hamilton of San Francisco took charge of the neww class at Vista Grande in the Jefferson District. Miss Minnie Lowry of Santa Cruz succeeded Miss Ethel McIntyre, at South San Francisco, who resigned and was married to the principal of the school, Mr. Geo E. Britton.

In the Easton School of the Millbrae District Mrs. Olive Gray has taken the place of Miss Jean Simonds, Miss Simonds having accepted a position in San Jose. At San Mateo Miss Elsie Northrop and Miss M. Sydney Dinsmore were appointed to take charge of the new classes in Burlingame and Lawrence schools. In Redwood City Miss Ivadell Bevins follows Miss Van Hagen who has taken charge of the 7th grade in the Hester School in San Jose. The Ravenswood school is now presided over by Miss Lillie Bertagna, of Vermont, who takes the place of Miss Leonora Lane. At Halfmoon Bay Miss Kate Brincard will have charge of Miss Vicla Fishers grade and at San Gregorio Miss Stone is succeeded by Mrs. John Holt of Auburn.

The next term will be a busy one in the building line. A new $20,000 school will be erected at San Bruno Park. A $3000 building will be constructed at Portola. $9500 bonds were issued at Miramar Monday. Thirty-one out o thirty-seven voters voting and the count stood 31 for and 0 against the issue.

The Montara district will vote on a $10,000 bond issue next month as it is the desire of the people of the district to have two new school houses.

The Jefferson district will also hold an election next month to bond the district for two new buildings, one at Vista Grande and one for the Crocker tract. The amount will be in the neighborhood of $30,000.

The year just passed has been a very pleasant one. The teachers in the main are happy and contented and the pupils are doing good work.

It is expected that the children of a number of the districts will furnish exhibits for the Alaska-Youkon Exposition at Seattle.

In the High schools the work is progressing nicely. Sequoia has no new faces among the teachers but at San Mateo Miss Beatrice Murray and Miss Interesting Entertainment Being Arranged for Opening Of New Parochial Hall.

ADDRESS BY REV. J. W. SULLIVAN

Host of Friends Tender Testimonials In Honor of Birthday Anniversary of Mrs. Moodie.

The Spencers have returned to town and are occupying the Doyle residence on Santa Cruz avenue. They are big entertainers and their home will be the scene of many gay functions during the summer.

There is a large demand for country homes here at present. Every day several praties from San Francisco are making inquiries. Nearly all the desirable houses have already been taken.

William B. Hicks, a member of a prominent family of San Francisco died Tuesday afternoon at Clark's private sanatorium at Stockton, after an illness of several months. He was suffering from several organic troubles and finally lost his mind, but later recovered his reason and died from disorders of the heart. Hicks was well known in the city and was prominently connected there. He was a brother of Mrs. Walter Deane and a step-brother of Miss Alice Haser and of her sister, Mrs. Lancing Kellogg. Hicks was well-known having lived with his mother at the Donohoe residence a dozen years ago. His stepfather, Mr. Haser was at that time collector of the port of San Francisco. Hicks, though having all the advantages of a splendid education, was wild, erratic and wayward and was always a source of annoyance to his family.

William Carnduff and William Warren returned from Rio Vista during the week with a fine bag of wild geese. The latter gave a goose dinner to his friends one evening during the week. Among those who attended were Joe Cull, Ed Brown, Edgar Bartley, William Carnduff and others too numerous to mention.

On February 19th the stork left a daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson of Modesto. They resided at one time in Menlo Park. Mrs. Williamson was formerly Miss Poole.

Banks Crosswaite, whose career is interwoven in the social history of the town, died at his home in Oroville recently. He lived here about 16 years ago and was a festive member of the younger set. He left a large estate.

The meetings held in the Presbyterian church during the week by Geo. A. Blair have been well attended. Dr. Thomas occupied the pulpit Thursday evening and delivered an eloquent sermon on the "Lost Sheep."

Rev. Moodie received a personal invitation from President Taft to be present at his inauguration. Mr. Moodie and the President were class mates at Yale.

The Ladies Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting at the parochial residence Thursday. It was the largest gathering of the members since the inauguration of the Auxilliary. Several new members were admitted and much business transacted. Mrs. Harkins is president and Mrs. J. J. Downey secretary. After the regular business was disposed of a novel program was rendered to the delight of all.

H. D. Parent and wife and Miss Norris Parent of San Francisco spent the week-end with Mrs. Coxin.

Max Selzer, of Oakland, visited his mother here Sunday last.

Thursday evening Mrs. Moodie was given a birthday party by her friends. She was substantially remembered by all the ladies in precious gifts. The trustees of the Presbyterian church gave her a present of $25. When these gifts were given her she was surprised, but delighted, and delivered a neat speech thanking her friends for their kindness. About 35 persons were present and spent an enjoyable evening in setting forth the praises of the hostess in song and speech. Mrs. Moodie has a host of friends in Menlo Park who wish her many more years of usefulness. Besides many costly gifts she was the recipient of oceans of well wishes.

Opening of New Parochial Hall.

Great preparations are being made for the entertainment to be held in the new Parochila Hall St. Patrick's Eve, March 16th at 8 p. m. The new hall which will then be completed will be thrown open for the first time. It has ample floor space, well equipped stage, electric lights throughout and is well provided with chairs for all patrons. In is building and completion nothing has been left undone to make it ample, comfortable and suitable for all kinds of entertainments and plays and amusements. It is with certain amount of pride that the Parishioners will open this hall on St. Patrick's Eve, and no effort is being spared to make the entertainment successful both socially and financially. The committee having the entertainment in charge are: Jno. B. Kelly, Nellie V. Casey, Father Harrington, John J. Downy, Mrs. Jas. TO O'Keefe, Daniel Driscoll May McCullough, John W. Morey and Edward Lawler. There will be music and singing and Gaelic dancing. There will be in addition a farce played by the young boys of the Parish who have been preparing it for many weeks entitled "Knaves and Fools" and an oration by the eloquent speaker Rev. Jno Sullivan who will present and defend Ireland's cause and a beautiful tableaux. The evening will conclude with dancing and refreshments. Come and spend a pleasant evening. Tickets on sale at the following places in Redwood City: A. D Walsh's drug store and P. A. Ryan's drug store.

The Cemetery Association will meet at the parochial residence tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. to transact important business. All members are urged to attend.

John Olsen has returned from the Gilroy Hot Springs after a stay of five weeks.

Mr. Rankin, the wholesale grocer, of San Francisco, was here during the week looking for a residence for the summer months.

E. B. Ryan and family will be here from San Francisco next week to occupy their suburban home for the season.

Mrs. Cluff was here Monday looking for a suitable home for the summer. Her daughter, Mrs. Bruner, has a beautiful residence at Fair Oaks. She is a society favorite and spends much of her time in the metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Kane have moved down from the city to occupy their country home for the season. They expect to do considerable entertaining this summer. Mr. O'Kane is an enthusiastic automobilist.

P. O. Nelson, who has been confined to the German Hospital in San Francisco for the past two months, has returned completely restored to health.

Miss Florence Breckenridge entertained a party of friends over the week end at the country home of her mother, Mrs. Fred Sharon at University Heights. Among those a who enjoyed the outing were Miss Mary Keeney, Frank King and Boyd Van Benthuysen.

Weeden Brothers have commenced work on the stable and garage for Louis Stern at Fair Oaks. It will have a frontage of 177 feet and a depth of 72 feet and will cost $7485. The building will be one of the finest and best garages in the county. Extra work will be done on it so that the structure when completed will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Kirby last Wednesday. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

You can order any style of cake you wish at the branch of the Palo Alto Home Bakery. Fresh bread, pies, cakes, etc., daily. Give it a trial. B. Liedberg, Oak Grove avenue, is the agent. Phone, 628K. tf

Articles Of Incorporation.

The following article of incorporation was filed in the county clerk's office last Thursday.

The Burlingame Building Company incorporates with a capital stock of $50,000 divided in 500 shares at a par value of $100 each. The purposes of the incorporation are to do a general real estate business. The principal place of business is San Francisco. The actual amount of stock subscribed is $300 by the following directors who subscribe one share each. Fred J. Rodgers, Geo. C. Sargent and J. J. Hachmann.

Building Contracts Filed

The following builder's contracts were filed in the recorder's office during the week:

Weeden Brothers agree to erect a two story frame stable and garage for Louis Stern at his place at Fair Oaks for $7485. There is no time limit for completing the contract except that it should be done within a reasonable time in accordance with good work.

Currie and Currie stipulate to erect a two story frame garage for Sigmund Stern at Fair Oaks for $4600. No time limit is stated.

MarriageLicenses Issued.

The following marriage licenses were issued during the week from the County Clerk's office:

Otto Moses, aged 36, and Matilda M. Dusuay, aged 28, both of San Francisco.

Percy Passon, aged 27, and Ida May Sedgwick, aged 23, both of San Jose.

Dan Quinn, aged 21, and Margaret E. Leslie, aged 18, both of San Francisco.

The school site question that has bothered the people of San Bruno Park for the past year has been finally settled. At a meeting of the citizens held last Monday evening it was decided by a vote of 92 to 65 to accept the site in Huntington Park. Several months ago the trustees of the district selected this site but they were enjoined from purchasing it by the Court on the grounds that the purchase was not authorized by a majority of the people of the district. The people have been divided on the question and some bitter feeling has been engendered. The new site contains 16 lots on the highest point in the tract commanding a beautiful marine view. The property cost $4300.

Jennie Commings, both of San Francisco have been added.

Sequoia is getting quite a reputation for its athletics. The basket-ball team and the base-ball team have beaten some very good opposing teams and both play good clean ball. At both of the High schools the teachers are inculcating a good class spirit and good clean athletics is the result.

At Halfmoon Bay, Colma and South San Francisco the matter of establishing Union High Schools is under way and it is quite probable that good flourishing secondry schools will be in session at these centers next year.

We think the Ocean Shore means business from the looks of the big plow at J. C. Williamson's store.

Captain Perry came up to New Years Island to take Mr. Gunters place while he is away.

Its funny how some people allow one to use them for cats paws to pull chestnuts out of the fire for this one.

It seems funny that an ex-Supervisor has no use for any one that he can not use.

Every one seems to have the cold of the season but do not feel at all proud of it.

L. Coburn says if a man is made incompetent and has lots of property how much could be used for champagne by a guardian if so disposed.

What would you think of a man who used anothers petition to be appointed Supervisor. What honor has a man that would do it and who would believe him even under oath.

Tells Good Bear Story.

W. H. Bias, the County Treasurer of Santa Cruz county, says our Pescadero correspondent, came up last week. He started the first stage line from Santa Cruz to Pescadero 40 years ago. He is now 68 years of age, but announces that he is ready to run James McCormack, Sr., a foot race—for money or marbles.

He remembers one time when he was driving up the coast with the stage, years ago. He had got north of the White House when he encountered a crowd going for a grizzly bear hunt, and decided to take in the sport. He tied the stage horses to the fence, took the wagon wrench and went along. They soon saw the bear's head in the tules and Billy climbed a willow tree. He had his feet in one tree and hung on to another with his hands, thinking he was 40 feet above the ground. Finally someone said the bear was dead. As Billy let go to come down he found out that his back had been on the ground all the time. He was asked how he felt after it was all over, and replied that he had "been to a bar fight." Billy you have been a stage driver, sure.

BULLOCK IS ACQUITTED

Judge Dooling Sustains Objection of Presecution to Jurors of Regular Panel.

The case of the people against J. I. Bullock was given to the jurySaturday afternoon and it returned a verdict of not guilty after deliberating 55 minutes. The court room was crowded during the argument of the case. Hoff Cook made an able address setting fourth the issues of the case and laying stress upon the conclusive evidence that was presented. Walter Linforth in summing uphis side of the case made an eloquent and forcible argument. He laid particular stress upon the fact that the people had shown no corruption on the part of the accused in connection with the alleged fraudulent contract. The instructions of Judge Dooling were fair and impartial.

It is not known how the jury voted. There were no discussions and the ballot was secret. The City papers published the fact that Henry Hillebrand had voted for conviction, when in fact he has since stated that he voted at every ballot for an acquittal. He is the only juryman who has made known how he voted.

There was much conflicting testimony produced at the trial but who ever witnessed a trial that there was not? The verdict has been rendered and here the chapter closes in so far as Mr. Bullock is concerned.

Tuesday morning was the time set for hearing the accusation against D. E. Blackburn and the other accused Supervisors and Sheriff Chatham. Mr. Benjamin, of the attorney general's office challenged the panel of the jury on the ground that it was made up of men selected by two of the Supervisors and the son-in-law of another Supervisor. He asked that it be disqualified.

Attorney Linforth, for the defense, objected to the challenge interposed by Benjamin, basing his argument on technicalities.

Judge Dooling held that while there was nothing on the statute books disqualifying the jury he thought the ends of justice would be best served by doing so and took the responsibility and disqualified the jury and ordered a new venire drawn.

Benjamin asked for time to prepare affidavits disqualifying the sheriff and coroner from selecting the new jury. He was given until Thursday afternoon when he appeared and filed nine affidavits. The other side was given until this morning to file counter affidavits.

The affidavits presented by Attorney Benjamin recited that the county officials were all more or less under the direction of Geo. C. Ross, one of the attorneys for the defense, and that he is virtually the "boss" of the county. The political, fraternal and social relations between the various officials are gone into very fully in the documents in the effort to prove that it would be impossible to secure a fair and impartial jury if it was selected by any of the county officials.

The affidavits were sworn to by Frank Miner, D. O. Daggett, J. V. Swift, R. H. Jury, County Clerk Joseph H. Nash, M. F. Healey, A. Wilbur, J. L. Wood and John Vaccari.

George C. Ross and Walter Linforth have prepared a set of strong affidavits denying in detail all the allegations made by Benjamin and these will be filed this morning.

James W. Cochrane, the well-known San Francisco lawyer, has been retained to assist in the defense of Sheriff Chatham.

Appraisers Make Estimate of Value of Extensive Landed Estate In San Mateo County.

The inujnction suit brought against the county by E.. B. &A. L. Stone Company restraining the auditor from issuing warrants on any funds of the county was modified by Judge Buck on Thursday so that the auditor is enjoined from allowing claims on the first township only. The Company furnished stone to the first township amounting to nearly $3,000 during the administration of Supervisor Eikerenkotter and his successor James Casey refuses to pay the claim. Pending the suit to determine who is legally bound to pay, the out going or incoming supervisor, the restraining order will be in full force and effect. DOLPHINS.

The Species That Play Around the Shores of Brittany.

Dolphin hunting as a sport is old to the Malouins, the inhabitants of St. Malo. Several species of dolphins are to be met with near the shores of Brittany. The largest is known to science as Delphinus delphis and differs from other varieties by its long jaws, very like the beak of a big bird, and armed with about sixty teeth as hard and sharp as steel. Its length may reach nine feet, and it weighs from 300 to 400 pounds. A swift swimmer, it preys on the schools of herrings, following them right up to the Scottish waters. In spite of its greed it is noted for its mild temper and frequently amuses itself by playing around ships in the open sea. Then there is the Delphinus tursio, or souffleur. This is smaller, and its beak is shorter, though armed with strong, powerful teeth that enable it to attack a big fish, pinning it down to the rocks with such force that its nose is often deeply marked with numerous cuts. This dolphin hates the very sight of a ship and never comes close to one. Finally there is the porpoise, or marcouin, the smallest species of the genus. Much sport may be obtained by hunting these various dolphins.—Wide World Magazine.

HIS UMBRELLA.

It Was the Cause of Airing Family Secrets in Public.

A young man was riding in an omnibus. He took the corner seat and held in his hand an umbrella which had been given him as a birthday present. On the seat facing him was a lady with a precocious boy, evidently about five years old.

The youngster regarded the young man with attention for a few moments, and then his eyes wandered to the umbrella. He gazed at it in silence for a second; then he wriggled in his seat, clapped his hands and shouted:

"Oh, mamma, don't that look like papa's umbrella?"

"Hush, hush, my child!" said the mother, patting the prodigy on the head.

"Papa was looking for his umbrella this morning, mamma," continued the child wonder.

"Yes, yes, but he found it," said the mother hurriedly, as the conversation was becoming of interest to the occupants of the seats.

"Why, mamma," continued the youngster, "you know he didn't. You told him that he didn't know enough to keep an umbrella. Why, mamma"—

At this stage the small boy was carried howling from the bus.—Pearson's Weekly.

Hailstones That Kill Cattle.

"Hailstones as big as baseballs—hailstones that kill cattle!"

"Rubbish!"

"It is the truth," declared the weather man. "These hailstones fall in the neighborhood of the Sierra Tapalgiren, near Buenos Aires. Darwin himself is my witness. Darwin testifies for me in his splendid book, 'The Voyage of the Beagle.'

"The great scientist saw what I saw, hailstones the size of oranges, crashing and smashing with a noise like a railroad collision. After the storm he came upon thirteen dead deer and fifteen dead ostriches. His companions saw several ostriches blinded in one eye and another ostrich running furiously in crazy circles, blinded in both eyes, by those terrible stones.

"What I saw was a herd of forty cattle, all lying dead. About them the grass was gray and white with slain birds—ducks, hawks, partridges."

The Ancient Stone Slingers.

It has been said that Asiatic nations excelled others in the use of the sling, and the slingers of an ancient army used their little weapons with terrible effect. "These natives have such skill," says one old historian, "that it very rarely happens that they miss their aim. What makes them so great in the use of the sling is the training given them from their earliest years by their mothers, who set up a piece of bread hung at the end of a rod for a target and let their children remain without food until they have hit it, when the child who is the victor receives the bread as the reward of his skill and patience."

The Bedouin's Bed.

An interesting patient at the medical mission at Haifa, Paleston, is alluded to in the annual report of the S. P. C. K. Dr. Coles writes: "During the year we have had many patients from very desolate parts of Asia. One was a Bedouin who had never been inside of a house with windows and had never seen a bedstead. He wanted to sleep under the bed, fearing to fall off if he tried to sleep in it, saying: "I can't stay awake all night holding on to this bank. Besides, it will not keep still!" It was a spring mattress.

Her Triumph.

Penelope (triumphantly)—I heard last night that Jack was head over ears in love with me. Grace (jealously)—You cannot believe all you hear. Penelope—No, but I should not wonder if there was something in it. Grace—Why? Who told you? Penelope—He did.

Cured.

"My wife will never buy any more cigars for me."

"Why not?"

"I insisted upon smoking all of the last lot in the house. Some of the rooms still reek with them."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

If you would not cease to love mankind you must not cease to do them good.—Maclaren.

A Needed Change.

The navy department once received from the commander in chief of the fleet an official communication relative to certain changes recommended by him to be made in the uniform shirt of the enlisted men. In accordance with custom this letter was forwarded to various officials for comment or expression of opinion, the remarks of each officer being appended on an indorsement slip. Each indorsement introduces the subject matter of the letter in a brief, and one of them thus tersely explained the contents: "Commander in chief desires to change shirt."—Lippincott's.

THE CROUCHING TIGER.

A Hunting Incident In the Jungles of India.

Now and then a soldier has been found kneeling on the battlefield as if about to take aim at the enemy, but stone dead. A bullet in the brain had converted him into a statue of himself. Captain Forsyth in his "Highlands of Central India" tells of a similar effect produced by an explosive shell on a tiger.

The captain while in the howdah of his trained elephant hunting a tiger saw the beast crouching under a bush on the bank of a ravine. He took aim and fired a three ounce shell at the tiger's broad forehead. To his surprise, for the distance was but thirty yards, there was no result. Not a motion of the tiger acknowledged the shot. He rode round a quarter of a circle, but still the tiger remained motionless, but looking intently in the same direction. Growing more and more amazed, the captain rode up nearer with his rifle at full cock, but the tiger did not move. Then he caused the elephant to kick the beast. The tiger fell over. He was stone dead. The shell had struck him full in the center of the forehead, burst in his brain and killed him instantly.—Exchange.

BOAT DWELLERS.

China's Floating Homes and Their Low Caste Population.

Stand beside the imperial custom house at Canton and let the eye range down the river toward Hongkong. As far as the sight can reach lie boats, boats, and again boats. These are no ordinary craft, mere vessels of transport plying hither and thither, but the countless homes of myriad Chinese, in which millions have been born, lived and died. They are the dwellings of the very poor, who live in them practically free from rent, taxes and other burdens of the ordinary citizen.

The Tankia (which means boat dwellers), as the denizens of these floating houses are called, form a sort of caste apart from the rest of the Cantonese. The shore dwellers regard them as belonging to a lower social order, and indeed they have many customs peculiar to themselves which mark them as a separate community. How the swarming masses of them contrive to support existence is a mystery, but their chief mode of employment is in carrying merchandise and passengers from place to place.—London Lady's Realm.

A Great Man.

A Breslau paper publishes this "child's composition" as an extract from Robert Goupp's "Psychology of the Child:" "Charles the Great was a good, brave man. He had a horseshoe which he broke. Whenever he met a Turk he drew his sword and cut the Turk in two, so that the halves flew to all ends of the world. He wore the clothes only which his daughter sewed for him. He was very pious. When he could not sleep he prayed. Once upon a time he was kneeling at the foot of the altar. The pope saw him there and anointed him, and so he became German emperor. Then he gave the people German names. He founded schools and churches. These learned to read and to write. When he died he sat down in a golden chair and was put in a vault. He is sitting there still."

The Human Heart.

The heart of man is a book—nay, it is an encyclopedia of everything that has ever come within the range of its personal experience. It preserves an eternal record of all the stories I which it has played a part. It is strange what sad things may be hidden in its depth without giving any token of their existence. The heart may be gay and may send the smile mantling to the face, but all the while you see only the topmost stratum. If the graves beneath were to give up their dead the smiles would seem strangely out of place. It is just like this great earth of ours that renews itself year after year and has not on its surface any token to tell what is the simple truth—that it has given graves to 200 generations of human beings.—Farrell.

Glacial Wonders.

The grandeur of nature's forces may be understood when one of the glaciers of Disco bay, Greenland, is studied. Heiland estimated that it had a thickness of 920 feet, with a breadth of 18,400 feet, and was found to be moving at the rate of forty-seven feet per diem. And this Disco bay glacier was only one of the many. Rink estimates that on the west coast of Greenland there are 120,000 square miles of territory, all contributing their supply of icebergs.

A Difficult Position.

A young captain who was drilling the awkward squad commanded thus: "Now, my men, listen to me. When I say 'Halt!' put the foot that's on the ground beside the one that's in the air and remain motionless."—Success Magazine.

They Were Discreet.

In the course of an interview Cardinal Manning, a short time before his death, referred to his boyhood days as follows: "Well, if you want me to talk nonsense I will say that it is a long way back to remember, for I am eighty-three, but I spent my childhood at Totteridge. A boy at Coombe Bank, Christopher Wadsworth, late bishop of Lincoln, and Charles Wadsworth, bishop of St. Andrews, were my playfellows. I frankly admit I was very mischievous.

"The two Wadsworths and I conceived the wicked intention of robbing the vinery. The door was always kept locked, and there was nothing for it but to enter through the roof. There was a dinner party that day, but there were no grapes. This is probably the only case on record where three future bishops were guilty of larceny. Were we punished? No. We were discreet. We gave ourselves up and were forgiven."

Piety.

Piety is not an end, but a means of attaining the highest degree of culture by perfect peace of mind. Hence it is to be observed that those who make piety an end and aim in itself for the most part become hypocrites.—Goethe.

Assessor's Instructions

To Owners of Real Estate and Personal Property.

The law requires each and every person who owns any class of property to annually, during the months of March, April or May, file a statement with the Assessor or his deputy in the county where the property is located. You should give a statement of all property owned by you on the first Monday in March at 12 o'clock m.

If you hold mortgages against others send in a mortgage statement showing amount due on each mortgage on the first Monday in March at 12 o'clock m.

No change can be made by the Assessor after he turns his books over to the Board of Supervisors on the first Monday in July. The Boards then sets as a Board of Equalization during the month of July.

Remember, if you fail to give in your assessment you fail to comply with the law and may cause yourself, the Assessor and Tax Collector much trouble, and very likely cause yourself expense.

It is much more satisfactory to the Assessor, as well as to yourself, to have your assessment correct when you go to pay your taxes.
